

Most people who have hepatitis C got infected by injecting drugs.

Hepatitis C can be spread by sharing needles or anything else with blood in or on it (e.g., spoons, bottle caps, cotton, ties, water).

If you ever injected drugs, even once, get tested today for hepatitis C.

Department of Health